

Story Behind The Song

I Have Decided To Follow Jesus

'I Have Decided to Follow Jesus' is a Christian hymn originating from India. The lyrics are based on the last words of a martyred man in Garo, Assam: Nokseng stood faithful as his family and then he himself died. Indian missionary, Sadhu Sundar Singh, is credited for putting these words, spoken by faith, into the hymn as we know it.

Due to a great revival in Wales, about 150 years ago, many missionaries came to north-east India to spread the Gospel in a region known as Assam, where there were hundreds of tribes who were primitive and aggressive head-hunters. One of these headhunters, Nokseng, his wife and two children were converted by some missionaries from the American Baptist Missions. Nokseng's faith was very contagious and many villagers began to accept Christianity.

Greatly angered, the village chief summoned all the villagers and called upon Nokseng and his family to renounce their faith in public or face execution. Moved by the Holy Spirit, he said, "I have decided to follow Jesus."

Enraged, the chief ordered his archers to arrow down the two children. As both boys lay twitching on the floor, the chief asked, "Will you deny your faith? You have lost both your children. You will lose your wife too."

Nokseng replied, "Though no one joins me, still I will follow." The chief was now furious and ordered his wife to also be arrowed down. In a moment she joined her two children in death. The village chief asked for the last time, "I will give you one more opportunity to deny your faith and live." In the face of death, the former headhunter gave these final memorable lines: "The cross before me, the world behind me. No turning back."

Nokseng, like the rest of his family, was shot dead, but, in the midst of death, a miracle began to take place. The chief who had ordered the killings was moved by the faith of this man. He wondered, "Why should this man, his wife and two children die for a Man who lived in a far-away land on another continent some 2,000 years ago? There must be some remarkable power behind the family's faith, and I too want to taste that faith."

Suddenly, in a confession of faith, the chief declared, "I too belong to Jesus Christ!" When the crowd heard the chief's personal declaration of Christianity, the whole village accepted Christ as their Lord and Saviour.

I have decided to follow Jesus (x3) No turning back, no turning back.

Though no one joins me, still I will follow (x3) No turning back, no turning back.

The cross before me, the world behind me (x3) No turning back, no turning

Cousin Leroy

On Sunday, the new young pastor arrived at church and found only Leroy had shown up. After waiting a while, the disappointed the pastor remarked,

"Well, it appears no one else is coming, so we should probably cancel service today" Leroy, dressed in his Sunday best, looked at the young preacher and said, "Well pastor, I don't know much 'bout preachin', but I do know something 'bout farmin' and if I went out in the field and found only one cow, I'd still feed 'em"

The excited young preacher then preached for the next 45 minutes a fierce fire and brimstone sermon. Afterwards the pastor asked Leroy what he thought.

To which Leroy replied, "Well pastor, I don't know much 'bout preachin', but I do know somethin' 'bout farmin' and if I went out in the field and found only one cow, I wouldn't give 'em the whole bale."

The Sound Of The Drums

A scientist goes out to research the behavior of the giant rat of Sumatra. Accompanied by his trusty guide, he seeks out the rats in the deep jungles of Borneo.

Suddenly, in the distance, they hear tribal drums. The guide announces, "I don't like the sound of those drums."

As they trek onward the drums get louder and louder until they sound quite close indeed. The guide says, "I really don't like the sound of those drums!"

Suddenly the drums stop, and a voice from the darkness cries out, "Hey man, he's not our regular drummer!"

The Accident

A snail hitched a ride with a friendly turtle. As they reached an intersection another turtle came along and rammed into them!

A cop came and questioned the snail: "What happened here?"

The little snail replied, "I don't know -- it all happened so fast."

No Longer A Beggar

Pastor Billy R Douglas

And Jesus stood still, and commanded him to be called. And they call the blind man, saying unto him, Be of good comfort, rise; he calleth thee. And he, casting away his garment, rose, and came to Jesus.
Mark 10:49-50 KJV

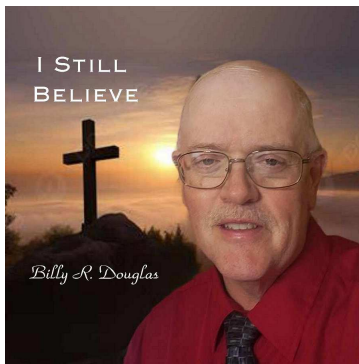

And so goes the call of Jesus to all of mankind, come unto me! This blind man who had laid by the way-side begging day after day, in his old, tattered, beggars garments.

When he heard the call of the master, he tossed aside those rags! He would no longer need them! When we come to Jesus we no longer need the filthy rags of this world.

Through His grace and through His mercy, we are changed from a beggar to a child of the King!

Two coats were before me, An old and a new
I asked my sweet master, Oh what must I do.
The old coat was ugly, So tattered and torn
The other a new one, Had never been worn.
I'll tell you the best thing, I ever did do
I took off the old coat, And put on the new (author unknown)

Until next time may the LORD bless and keep you, Pastor Billy R. Douglas

A Word to the Wise – God Calls ALL the Shots – Proverbs 16:1-6 part 01

Pastor Steven Huston

“All the ways of a man are clean in his own eyes; but the LORD weigheth the spirits.” Pro 16:2

In a very general sense, these verses clearly teach our total dependence upon God for everything. Even in writing those words, I am very aware that many of you who just read them may be giving whole-hearted mental ascent to them with a “Duh, of course that’s true, Steve.”

Yet, a word to the wise would press us to give serious thought, beyond the generalities, as to what exactly “total dependence upon God for EVERYTHING” might entail. As I’ve thought on these verses for the past month, I’ve been amazed at how man’s free will is given the space to move within the boundaries of God’s sovereignty, thereby given room to roam but always held accountable to a holy God who calls ALL the shots. God is the holy standard and declares what is righteous and what is unrighteous.

In other words, God declares the pure ways of holiness and draws men to Christ, but He neither forces men into the way of holiness nor into the way of sin. In giving men the desire of their hearts, God will move them along the route they have chosen, while still drawing and calling them to the way of the cross – the way of Christ – giving them opportunity to repent and follow “holiness, without which no man shall see the Lord.” Yet, should they refuse, remaining willful and impenitent sinners, they, not God, have made themselves wicked and will find themselves facing a sinner’s hell for all eternity. And yet, God, in His great mercy, provides an atonement from sin through Jesus, His only begotten Son. Through fearing God – having a filial reverence for Him, thereby desiring to neither anger nor displease Him – men will depart from that which is evil. (John Wesley says, “They are kept from abusing pardoning mercy, and from returning to folly or wickedness.”)

Verse 2 encapsulates the whole of a man – his preparations, his words, his thoughts, his deeds, his interactions, relationships, choices, ALL his ways. Whatever we do, we feel right/clean in our doing them. We justify a great number of things, excusing them as right, based on the actions of others.

Sometimes we justify our actions by the fact that everyone else is doing it or that it’s been made legal by the courts of man. Who hasn’t heard their mother say something like: “If everyone else were jumping off a cliff, would you too?” or “That’s up to their parents, you’re my child and we’re not doing that in our house.” Regardless of what man’s courts may decide, we have been created by God, the courts of heaven have already ruled what’s righteous and what’s not. God calls the shots and we must deal with His rules. Whether we honor Him as the Heavenly Father He is or not, we will be judged by what He has declared.

Other times we justify our actions by response to what someone has done to us; we assume that their wrongful actions give us permission to “do as they’ve done unto us” or pay them back, regardless of how ungodly that is. In reality, it only hurts our relationships, destroys our witness, and changes us (often more than we realize) into bitter people. It shows a lack of trust in God and reveals the true condition of our heart. Most importantly, it hinders our growth in Christ and hurts our relationship with Him. Micah 6:8 tells us what God expects from us: Do justly. LOVE MERCY. Walk HUMBLY with our God. To respond in an ungodly manner, to not turn the other cheek, to not allow God to bring His own vengeance to the situation is to be pride-filled, not humble.

How does God call the shots here? How will He weigh the spirits? Jesus tells us: First, to love God with ALL that you are and, secondly, to love others as you love yourself. The Judge of all the earth also told us to “Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you; That ye may be the children of your Father which is in heaven...”

You can buck God’s system, but He calls the shots. His way is the only winning way; all others “shall not be unpunished.”

The Master Planter

Pastor Steven Huston

“Peter, an apostle of Jesus Christ, to the strangers scattered throughout Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia, Elect according to the foreknowledge of God the Father, through sanctification of the Spirit, unto obedience and sprinkling of the blood of Jesus Christ: Grace unto you, and peace, be multiplied.” (1 Pet. 1:1-2)

It's April, a time when people start planting their gardens or at least start planning what they'll plant and where they'll plant it. Some will pour over seed catalogs while others will go to their local store and choose seed off the rack. Still others will plant seeds in little containers, looking forward to transplanting them into the ground.

Did you know that God is like a Master Gardener and He pours over His catalog of people, obedient believers, to see where He can best use them? Friends, certain seeds and plants do better in particular soils, shades of sunlight, and water; God's people with their own temperaments, abilities, degrees of longsuffering and charity will do best when they, in cheerful obedience, “bloom where they are planted.” Can we simply trust that God knows best and will work all things “together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to his purpose”?

Let's take a quick look at Peter's first verse, “to the strangers scattered.” Friends, every true believer is a stranger here on earth. This isn't our home, we don't truly belong here, except as being able to point others to Jesus and to show God's love to others, while praising Him in all situations. We will either grow a root of bitterness that comes from feelings of anger and self-pity as we cry, “It's not fair;” or we will bloom like flowers in a garden that blend their hues in worship to the Lord. Regardless our circumstance, God has shown His goodness in giving us life and a place to serve Him, and breath to offer Him praise.

Do you see that word “scattered”? The Greek word for scattered literally means “to sow through.” It's like when a farmer sows seed in a field by hand; he flings it everywhere. When Jesus told the parable of the four soils, He began: “Behold, a sower went forth to sow; And when he sowed, some seeds fell by the way side... Some fell upon stony places...some fell among thorns... other fell into good ground, and brought forth fruit...” (Matt. 13:3-8).

Depending on where we have landed, we might feel that God has indiscriminately sown us to the wind, much like the feeling we get in Jesus' parable. We may wonder if God even knows where we are and what we are going through. Sometimes during affliction or persecution we may feel that we are forgotten. Other times, we may feel that the task of faithfulness is too hard for us because of where we are and what we are going through – BUT WAIT!

Pay close attention to the first word of that second verse – ELECT – yup, that's the one. In the original, it's in the first verse; it means “chosen.” God hadn't forgotten His seeds nor where He planted them in Peter's day and He hasn't forgotten where He's planted you! God, the Master Planter, poured over His “seed catalog” and specifically chose you to be “planted where you are” because He uniquely created you for His good purpose, to bring Him glory where you can do Him the most good. You are a temporary resident (“stranger”), representing God where you've been selectively “scattered,” to call others to salvation and sanctification to this end: That God will be rightly worshiped and greatly glorified.

The remainder of verse two should encourage and energize us; it shows how the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost has called, enlivened, and strengthened us for the task of faithful obedience. It's by His grace and strength that we can flourish where we are planted – not simply survive – FLOURISH! As always, we have a choice; will we bloom with praise and fruitfulness where we are planted, depending on our great God, or will we, due to tribulation or persecution or because of the cares of this world and the deceitfulness of riches, become unfruitful and unfed?

The Mouse Trap

That there should be no schism in the body; but that the members should have the same care one for another. 1 Corinthians 12:25

A mouse looked through the crack in the wall to see the farmer and his wife open a package. "What food might this contain?" The mouse wondered - he was devastated to discover it was a mousetrap. Retreating to the farmyard, the mouse proclaimed the warning "There is a mousetrap in the house! There is a mousetrap in the house!" The chicken clucked and scratched, raised her head and said, "Mr. Mouse, I can tell this is a grave concern to you, but it is of no consequence to me. I cannot be bothered by it." The mouse turned to the pig and told him, "There is a mousetrap in the house! There is a mousetrap in the house!" The pig sympathized, but said, "I am so very sorry, Mr. Mouse, but there is nothing I can do about it. The mouse turned to the cow and said "There is a mousetrap in the house! There is a mousetrap in the house!" The cow said, "Wow, Mr. Mouse. I'm sorry for you, but it's no skin off my nose." So, the mouse returned to the house, head down and dejected, to face the farmer's mousetrap alone. That very night a sound was heard throughout the house -- like the sound of a mousetrap catching its prey. The farmer's wife rushed to see what was caught. In the darkness she did not see it was a venomous snake whose tail the trap had caught. The snake bit the farmer's wife. The farmer rushed her to the hospital, and she returned home with a fever. Everyone knows you treat a fever with fresh chicken soup, so the farmer took his hatchet to the farmyard for the soup's main ingredient. But his wife's sickness continued, so friends and neighbors came to sit with her around the clock. To feed them, the farmer butchered the pig. The farmer's wife did not get well; she died. So many people came for her funeral, the farmer had the cow slaughtered to provide enough meat for all of them. The mouse looked upon it all from his crack in the wall with great sadness. So, the next time you hear someone is facing a problem and think it doesn't concern you, remember we are all involved in this journey called life. We must keep an eye out for one another and make an extra effort to encourage one another.

Pleasing God

A.B. Simpson

Furthermore then we beseech you, brethren, and exhort you by the Lord Jesus, that as ye have received of us how ye ought to walk and to please God, so ye would abound more and more.

1 Thessalonians 4:1

Many Christians are in the place that the Lord has appointed them, and yet the devil is harassing their lives with a sense that they are not quite pleasing the Lord. If they could just settle down in the place that God has assigned them and fill it faithfully and lovingly for Him, there would be more joy in their hearts and more power in their lives. God puts us in various places to serve Him, and the secret of accomplishing the most is to recognize our place as designated from Him and our service in it as pleasing to Him. Even in the great factory or the complex machine there is a place for the smallest screw and rivet as well as the great driving wheel and piston. So God has His "small parts" whose business is simply to stay where He puts them and to believe that He wants them there and is making the most of their lives in the little spaces that they fill for Him. There is something all can do, Tho' you're neither wise nor strong; You can be a helper true, You can stand when friends are few, Some lone heart has need of you, You can help along.

FOOTPRINTS TO FOLLOW

Answered Prayers

A voyaging ship was wrecked during a storm at sea and only two of the men on it were able to swim to a small, desert like island. The two survivors, not knowing what else to do, agree that they had no other recourse but to pray to God. However, to find out whose prayer was more powerful, they agreed to divide the territory between them and stay on opposite sides of the island.

The first thing they prayed for was food. The next morning, the first man saw a fruit-bearing tree on his side of the land, and he was able to eat its fruit. The other man's parcel of land remained barren. After a week, the first man was lonely and he decided to pray for a wife. The next day, another ship was wrecked, and the only survivor was a woman who swam to his side of the land. On the other side of the island, there was nothing.

Soon the first man prayed for a house, clothes, more food. The next day, like magic, all of these were given to him. However, the second man still had nothing.

Finally, the first man prayed for a ship, so that he and his wife could leave the island. In the morning, he found a ship docked at his side of the island. The first man boarded the ship with his wife and decided to leave the second man on the island. He considered the other man unworthy to receive God's blessings, since none of his prayers had been answered. As the ship was about to leave, the first man heard a booming voice from heaven, "Why are you leaving your companion on the island?"

"My blessings are mine alone, since I was the one who prayed for them," the first man answered. "His prayers were all unanswered and so he does not deserve anything."

"You are mistaken!" the Voice rebuked him. "He had only one prayer, which I answered. If not for that, you would not have received any of my blessings."

"Tell me," the first man asked the voice, "What did he pray for that I should owe him anything?" "He prayed that all your prayers be answered."

For all we know, our blessings are not the fruits of our prayers alone, but those of another praying for us.

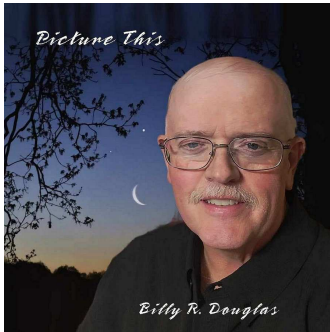

Confess your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed. The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much. James 5:16

Nancy's Nuggets Of Wisdom

The Narrow Way

Sister Nancy Willis

Matthew. 7;13,14 "Enter ye in at the strait gate; for wide is the gate, and broad is the way, that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in thereat; 14 Because strait is the gate, and narrow is the way, which leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it."

Have you ever noticed that all the things that are bad for you come easy. Mom always told me, everything that glitters is not gold. And, if it sounds too good to be true, then it is. Well, I'M glad that I can take what the Bible says and hold it to be true, that I don't have to second guess it. In a world where there is destruction all around us and evil lurks on every corner, many people are falling for false prophets, saying they have the way to go. I can go to the word of God and get the direction that I need to go and lead my family. I see people today getting hung up on the things the Bible is saying. But, in fact, the Bible tells us there are some mysteries that will never be known. The Bible does tell us that strait is the gate and narrow is the way, which leadeth unto life. And because strait is the gate, few there be that find it. In a world that is always changing, he is the same today, yesterday, and tomorrow. He tells us to prove his word, to test it to be true. To me, He is like a rock that I can hold on to when the storms of life start to rage. I know He is there because He told me that He would never leave me nor forsake me. He knows when I have a need before I ask of it. He tells me he gave everything for me, but He is everything to me. Life is not fair; I wished it was. The devil is out to seek and destroy, but with faith we can hold on to the best thing that I have ever found... GOD. Study His word and get to know Him. If your world is going round and round and you don't know which way is up and life seems to be unkind, go to the Father because he is waiting. His word tells me that He is not the Author of confusion. That's the devil's job. But, God can take the wrong and work it for our good. My God is a big God. So, with a world that is dying and lost, just look for the narrow way. AND LET GOD BLESS YOU TODAY. (March 2007)

A Word for TODAY!

By Sister Michelle Deuling

Verse for Today: Psalms 119:1-8 ALEPH. Blessed are the undefiled in the way, who walk in the law of the LORD. Blessed are they that keep his testimonies, and that seek him with the whole heart. They also do no iniquity: they walk in his ways. Thou hast commanded us to keep thy precepts diligently. O that my ways were directed to keep thy statutes! Then shall I not be ashamed, when I have respect unto all thy commandments. I will praise thee with uprightness of heart, when I shall have learned thy righteous judgments. I will keep thy statutes: O forsake me not utterly. Additional Passages for today: John 4:24 & 14:6; Deuteronomy 4:29 & 6:17; 1 Kings 2:3; 2 Chronicles 31:21; Jeremiah 29:13

Thought for Today: The godly will follow the law of the Lord. They will keep it and seek it with their whole heart. Those who do not keep it and seek it with their whole heart will do iniquity and will not be godly.

Story for Today: Albert finished the paper with a quick glance to make sure he had finished the last sentence and gathered up his books, stuffing them back into the backpack as he rushed to leave the library. It wasn't that the library was closing or anything, he just wanted to be done and get to the gym to hopefully catch a few of the guys, so he could get in a game of 3 on 3. School was not the only area of his life that Albert struggled to give his all. However easy basketball was to give 100% of himself, studying and applying himself with other disciplines was twice as hard. Coach Mitchel often reminded the guys that basketball wouldn't be forever, but the character they learned on the court could carry them further than they might imagine. After a couple of hours of play, the guys all decided to call it a night. Troy walked out the door with Albert and asked him if he needed a ride to youth group tonight. Albert enjoyed the fun at youth group, but sometimes it seemed a little too much to do all the things Troy did. Troy was always talking about what he had read in his Bible that day and what lesson he was learning from a message he had heard. Troy was a really nice guy, but couldn't you be a nice guy without all that studying he did?

Albert decided he would go to church and the guys grabbed a burger on their way. Deciding he should keep the conversation on better topics, Albert started asking questions about some of the new plays their coach had just shown the team. Troy was happy to talk with Albert, but to Albert's dismay, he always had a way of bringing the topic back to God and what the Bible had to say about things. Albert knew that a lot of his friends from church never spoke about the things of God. He never heard them discuss the Bible or the lessons they were supposed to be learning at church. In fact, Troy was the only youth who offered to pray anywhere regularly. As the boys left church that night, Troy's phone began to ring. He pulled over and answered the call to find a hysterical Sylvia begging him to come to her aid. Her sister had taken some drugs and the ambulance had just left to take her to the hospital. Her parents had told her to stay home to care for her younger brother and she was scared. The boys headed to their friend's house and Albert found out what a blessing it was that Troy knew the Lord and was well versed in the scriptures and lessons he had applied to his life. While Troy prayed and shared the truth about how God is always available to His children, Albert sat stunned realizing that had Sylvia called him, he wouldn't have known what to say or do. Troy's words not only brought calm to Sylvia, but her little brother had stopped crying too. Was the danger to her sister over? No. However, they were able to focus on God and were able to give their fear and anxiety over to Him. Albert decided that night that not only would he apply himself to building a better character on the court, but he would be learning to read and follow, seeking with his whole heart the teaching of Jesus. He didn't want to be lazy anymore. If he was going to love the Lord with his whole heart, mind, and soul, he would be seeking to follow His ways always. To follow, he needed to know. To know, he needed to read and listen. He would be blessed and be able to be a blessing.

Questions for Today: Do you go through the motions and hope you will make it to heaven? Have you ever spent time and effort to seek after God with your whole heart? What is most important in your life? Would others know to go to you in times of trouble, recognizing that you seek after God with your whole heart?

Prayer for Today: Dear Heavenly Father, Thank You for Your love. Thank You that You gave us the Word both through the Bible and in the flesh when You sent your son, Jesus Christ. Please help us to cherish it, love You, and keep the truths, protecting them each and every day. Please help us seek after You with our whole heart. Please help us never to become lazy in our love for You and others that You want us to influence. In Jesus' Name, Amen.

God's Simple Plan of Salvation

My Friend: we are about to ask you the most important question of your life. Your joy or your sorrow for all eternity depends upon your answer. The question is: Are you saved? Do you know Jesus Christ as your personal LORD and Saviour? It is not a question of how good you are, nor if you are a church member, but have you put your faith in Jesus? Are you sure you will go to Heaven when you die? The Bible makes the plan of salvation plain and simple. Romans 10:13 says For whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved. Call on Jesus today. Put your faith and trust in him and ask him to forgive you of your sins and to be your LORD and savior and you will be born again...SAVED!! Do this today, tomorrow may be too late! Please write or call us if you have made the decision to accept Jesus.
