THE STORY BEHIND THE SONG

I'm the Child of a King

Harriet E. Buell (Hattie) composed most of the words to this hymn in 1877, at the age of 40, on her way home from a Sunday morning service. The pastor's message sparked the idea, she wrote a six stanza poem, and, as she'd often done in the past, sent the words to a magazine entitled Northern Christian Advocate. Rev. John B. Sumner, a minister from Binghamton, N.Y., contacted her, stating that he had written a tune for her poem. Hattie died at her humble, little cottage in 1910, surely declaring her second verse, now, as truth confirmed:

My Father's own Son, the Savior of men, Once wandered on earth as the poorest of them; But now He is reigning for ever on high, And will give me a home in Heaven by and by. I can't help but imagine that Hattie boisterously sings her chorus in glory now: I'm the child of a King, The child of a King, With Jesus my Savior, I'm the child of a King.

In a tribute to his mother, Dr. Daniel A. Poling wrote in The Christian Herald: "I found her in that far-away where a child's memory begins—and she was singing. Fragments of those songs come to me now. One she sang to a dying President, James Garfield. 'My Father is rich in houses and lands, He holdeth the wealth of the world in His hands! Of rubies and diamonds, of silver and gold, He coffers are full—He has riches untold.'"

"Always when mother sang that song her face became luminous with the light that never was on land or sea. We heard her sing it for the last time only a little while ago as she sat in her chair and we gathered about her. Now evermore she sings it with the chorus of her 'Beulah-land.'"

Cousin Leroy

Leroy and Bubba decided to take the new pastor, who by the way, was from the big city. Out fishing on the river in their rowboat. Twelve o'clock rolls around, and ole Bubba notices a nice spot on the bank to have lunch. So they head over to the bank to eat.

Leroy stands up in the boat, steps out onto the river and walks over to the bank. The pastor looks on with amazement, and thinks to himself, if that old hillbilly is holy enough to walk on water, surely he can.

About that time Bubba stands up, picks up the picnic basket, steps out of the boat, and walks over to the bank and sits down with Leroy. Again, to his amazement, the pastor thinks again, if Bubba is holy enough to walk on water, surely he can.

The pastor stands up, steps out of the boat, and down he goes into the water. He pulls his way back up into the boat and tries again. Down he goes back into the river!

Looking on from the bank, Leroy leans over to Bubba and says, "You reckon we should tell that preacher where them the rocks is?"

The Girlfriend

Little Tommys dad found out that he had an imaginary girlfriend.

His dad said, "You know, you could do better."

"Thanks dad, that means a lot," Tommy replied.

"I was talking to your girlfriend." said his dad

"Oh, not much, just about to dispel the old 'bark worse than bite' myth."

Turnip Green & Goober

Turnip Green and Goober boarded the plane that was headed home. Fifteen minutes into flight, the pilot announced: "Ladies and gentlemen, one of our engines has failed. There is nothing to worry about. Our flight will take an hour longer than scheduled, but we still have three engines left."

Thirty minutes later the pilot announced: "One more engine has failed and the flight will take an additional two hours. But don't worry, we can fly just fine on two engines."

An hour later the pilot announced: "One more engine has failed and our arrival will be delayed another three hours. But don't worry, we still have one engine left."

At this point Turnip Green turned to Goober and said, "If we lose one more engine, we'll be up here all day!"

Woe Unto Me If I Preach Not The Gospel

Pastor Billy R Douglas

For though I preach the gospel, I have nothing to glory of: for necessity is laid upon me; yea, woe is unto me, if I preach not the gospel! 1 Corinthians 9:16

Paul's warning to himself also applies to the entirety of the church. Woe be unto us all if we point mankind to any other solution. To any other remedy outside of the finished work of the cross of Christ!

Not only does Paul declare this WOE upon himself should he fail to preach the Gospel. But he also calls for a curse upon himself or anyone else that dares to preach any other remedy for that which ails fallen man!

But though we, or an angel from heaven, preach any other gospel unto you than that which we have preached unto you, let him be accursed. As we said before, so say I now again, If any man preach any other gospel unto you than that ye have received, let him be accursed. Galatians 1:8-9

This is why, for the sake of the lost AND for ourselves. We cannot, we must not point people to anything or anyone other than Jesus Christ and His cross! And woe unto us if we do!!

The Shadow Of The Cross

The day I caught a glimpse, of Calvary's healing flow.
I gave my heart and life to him, His grace he did bestow.
I cannot boast of something less, than this rugged bloody tree.
His finished work the debt he paid, has set this captive free.
Within its shadow I will dwell, and never to depart.
'Tis there I found the grace, that saved my wretched heart.

(Billy R. Douglas)

Until next time may the LORD bless and keep you, Pastor Billy R. Douglas

A Word to the Wise – Prov. 7 – A Story of Seduction

Pastor Steven Huston

“Keep my commandments, and live; and my law as the apple of thine eye. Bind them upon thy fingers, write them upon the table of thine heart.” Proverbs 7:2-3

This chapter, from verse 6 to its close, tells the story of sensuality and seduction, outlining the pleasures of sin for a season, finally exposing the gruesome end of all who will fall into the adulteress’ trap – as an ox to the slaughter or the numerous strong men who have met their demise, finding themselves in hell after taking part in sin’s transitory and fleeting pleasures within the strange woman’s house. (v. 22-27)

This is the fifth time that Solomon gives a dire warning to his son to avoid the strange woman. Solomon who was wise in the ways of God – the authorized ways – gives warning against the unauthorized woman; he is giving his son instruction on how to avoid physical and spiritual adultery which leads to everlasting damnation.

In previous months we’ve discussed that “keeping” the commands is more than obeying them; it’s to treasure those words, instructions, and commands, treating them as precious. If we will follow Solomon’s instructions, walking in the holy way of purity which Jehovah God lays out, we will not fall into the trap of the unauthorized, “strange” woman. If we will opt for life rather than death, then we will follow after wisdom and truth. The wise man speaks of three ways in which we can avoid the siren call of the physical and spiritual seductress:

1. “(Keep) my law as the apple of thine eye.” This refers to the pupil of the eye, it is the most sensitive part, it is essential to sight, and is very easily injured. Because we treasure our eyesight we are diligent in giving all possible care and protection to this treasured and beloved part of our body. We must care about losing God’s Word and its impact on our lives even more than losing our physical sight. To guard the influence of God’s way over that of the “strange” woman, we will avoid, so much as lies in us, any temptation that might lead us away. Like Joseph of old, we will run from it, even if we must leave something of value behind.

2. “Bind them upon thy fingers.” We applied this in a practical way with our children many years ago. We actually tied some Bible verses to each of our fingers for the whole day. When I went shopping and paid the cashier, there were times that these bound verses caused inconvenience, odd looks, and I had to think of how or if I could do things without “offending” these treasured words which were literally at my fingertips. In like manner, when we bind God’s Word to our fingers, sometimes it will be an “inconvenience” or even a hindrance to our plans or fun – but GOD’S WORD COMES FIRST! There will times we must choose – that which is bound to my fingers or that which would cause me to hide those strings.

3. “write them upon the table of thine heart.” Fix them in your mind and in your affection. As David, Solomon’s kingly father, wrote: “Thy word have I hid in mine heart, that I might not sin against thee.”

As we read through the account of David’s life, we see that David did these three things and it kept him from the spiritual “strange woman” – spiritual adultery – even though he fell into physical adultery. It led to a host of other sins as well. Yet none of these were unpardonable sins; there was, and is, hope for the one who repents and trusts in the grace of God and the atoning work of Jesus Christ.

“David repented, and was pardoned, and so we hope was Sampson. The three children were cast alive into a burning fiery furnace, and came out unsinged; but we will not cast ourselves into the fire, in hope that the same miracle will be wrought for our deliverance. May the Lord keep us from temptation, and pluck out hardened sensualists as brands out of the fire!” ~George Lawson

Faith Or Fear

Pastor Steven Huston

(Please read Matthew 14:22-33)

“But straightway Jesus spake unto them, saying, Be of good cheer; it is I; be not afraid.” Matthew 14:27

Whether it's the state of our nation, some disease in our bodies, a family or financial situation, the unknown, or any other of the numerous storms that may be assailing our little “boat” called life, we must choose either faith or fear, peace or turmoil, to trust in the Creator God or trust in our own strength.

Satan's great desire is to weaken our faith by fear. Even David prayed to the LORD, “preserve my life from fear of the enemy.” If Satan can get us to look at the wind and the waves of our temporal circumstances rather than trusting the Lord with our eyes of faith, we may just get us to sink. That's what happened to Peter in the Biblical account I'm referencing today. Jesus bid Peter to come. Peter immediately jumped out of the boat in faith, while walking on the water his eyes were distracted from Jesus by the boisterous wind, Peter became fearful and started to sink. What a blessing that he had the good sense to cry out, “Lord, save me!” and Jesus did.

I love what old-time holiness writer A.B. Simpson had to say about this: “‘It is I; be not afraid.’ He (Jesus) does not say, ‘It is over,’ or ‘It is morning,’ or ‘It is fine weather,’ or ‘It is smooth water,’ but He says, ‘It is I; be not afraid.’ He is the antidote to fear; He is the remedy for trouble; He is the substance and the sum of deliverance. Therefore, we should rise above fear.”

IF you are a follower of Jesus, do not doubt. Instead, cry out to Him; trust His perfect timing; take hold of His hand, walk with Him in faith, climb back into the boat and worship your Master, Redeemer, and Friend. As a child of God, meditate on and hold on to His promises:

“Fear thou not; for I am with thee: be not dismayed; for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness. Isaiah 41:10” “Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee: because he trusteth in thee. Trust ye in the LORD for ever: for in the LORD JEHOVAH is everlasting strength: Isaiah 26:3-4” Cry out your prayers with the psalmist: “Be merciful unto me, O God: for man would swallow me up; he fighting daily oppresseth me. Mine enemies would daily swallow me up: for they be many that fight against me, O thou most High. What time I am afraid, I will trust in thee. In God I will praise his word, in God I have put my trust; I will not fear what flesh can do unto me. Psalms 56:1-4”

A.B. Simpson also wrote: “Every fear is distrust, and trust is the remedy for fear.” Face your storms with faith and trust, walking in obedience with Jesus and worshiping/praising Him. Then your faith will be strengthened; it will be a witness and encouragement to others when they see what the LORD can do in you and for you; and there will be a freshness about you.

In a parallel account we read, “Then they willingly received him into the ship: and immediately the ship was at the land whither they went.” (John 6:21) Dear Reader, I urge you to do likewise. Willingly receive the Lord into your ship by faith, trusting Him, and you'll be surprised at how quickly the storm is calmed and you'll get through to the other side. “Sometimes He calms the storm /With a whispered peace be still /He can settle any sea /But it doesn't mean He will /Sometimes He holds us close /And lets the wind and waves go wild /Sometimes He calms the storm /And other times He calms His child” ~ Scott Krippayne

Brown Sugar Chops

- 4 thick 1 inch pork chops
- 4 tbsp brown sugar, packed
- 4 tbsp butter
- 1 tbsp soy sauce
- 1 tbsp Worcestershire sauce

Set your oven to preheat to 350F. In a large bake oiled oven pan, lay your pork chops. Add one tbsp of brown sugar on each piece of meat. Next add a square tbsp of butter on each pork chop as well. Lastly, drizzle both the soy and Worcestershire sauce over. Using tinfoil, cover the pork chops and bake for 40 mins in the oven. After 40 minutes is up, remove the tinfoil and continue to bake for 20 minutes. Pork chops will be golden brown and reach an internal temperature of 145

Oven Fried Taters & Onions

- 5 pounds red potatoes, thinly sliced
- 1 onion, finely chopped
- 6 slices bacon, chopped
- 1/2 cup butter, diced
- Salt and pepper to taste

Preheat oven to 400 degrees F (200 degrees C). Grease a 9x13 inch casserole dish. Place potatoes in an even layer in greased dish. Sprinkle onion and bacon over potatoes, then dot with butter. Cover dish with foil. Bake in preheated oven for 45 minutes. Remove foil and stir potatoes. Turn oven to broiler setting and allow potatoes to brown for approximately 5 minutes, until crispy. You may need to stir every minute or so to achieve even browning. Serve immediately.

VANITY Of VANITIES

The House Of Mourning

Brother Tyler Willis

“It is better to go to the house of mourning, than to go to the house of feasting: for that is the end of all men; and the living will lay it to his heart. Sorrow is better than laughter: for by the sadness of the countenance the heart is made better. The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning; but the heart of fools is in the house of mirth.”

- Ecclesiastes 7:2-4 -

While speaking on the topic of death, the Preacher states that it's better for one to go to the “house of mourning” (which would be akin to saying “it is better to go to a funeral” in our current day) than to go to the “house of feasting” (current day equivalent: “than to go to a party”). This is a teaching that we would likely be caught off guard by - why would it be better for me to go to a funeral than a party? That seems like a rather discouraging trip. Solomon gives us the reason why - death is the end of all men, whether we like it or not. Because all men must die, “the living will lay it to his heart” - i.e. the living should acknowledge their mortality.

While the Preacher's suggestions may cause us some confusion, he makes another statement that only deepens it, saying that sorrow is better for us than laughter. This teaching goes against how we would naturally assume things to be; even Solomon would write that “A merry heart doeth good like a medicine” (Proverbs 17:22). It's ingrained in us that “laughter is the best medicine” to the point that you can probably find like 20 different throw pillows that say that, all with different designs; yet the Preacher here tells us something different, something to the contrary of our understanding, and it once again makes us question why he would write such things - what's great is that we once again receive an answer to the question before it's been asked. Solomon finishes the proverb by explaining that it's through sadness that the heart is “made better”. The most likely interpretation of this proverb is this - sadness is better for us than laughter because somber reflection has a good influence on our lives. It is through times of sorrow, specifically in relation to death, that we begin to reflect upon our lives and (as noted in verse 2) acknowledge our mortality. Through this reflection and acknowledgement it is likely that a person may gain more wisdom and begin to utilize it to improve their lives.

It is because of this improvement brought about by somber reflection that Solomon concludes that a wise person will be at the house of mourning and a foolish person would forgo in order to be in the “house of mirth” - that is, the place of pleasure. More often than not we would prefer to keep ourselves in the places of pleasure, but growth and recognition of our reliance on God typically comes when we abide in the house of mourning.

Testimony of Kathy Nipper – God Will Make a Way!

I was raised up in a family of nine children. My daddy was very, very poor; we were all poor. We didn't know it but we were poor. I guess you'd say we didn't have a lot. My daddy had black lung, worked in the coal mines, and got outta there. We had to depend on God for a lot. Let me tell you this quick little story about how God works when nothing else does.

One time many years ago, around Thanksgiving, we lived way out on top of a mountain and you had to walk up a little path to get to the house. We didn't have a Thanksgiving feast to put on; we didn't have that much with nine of us kids and daddy not working. We were renting a little house that daddy had fixed up; the feller let us have it for $15 a month. That tells you how long ago that's been. Daddy was good about helping with things around the house. He'd use nothing to make something out of it. He had added on a little porch to the back of the house and that was his prayer room. Daddy went out there every morning. We woke up with our daddy praying; that was our alarm clock. He didn't pray for five minutes; he prayed. He prayed; you could hear him all over the house. He was out there in that little room and he was praying for God to make a way for us to get some food for Thanksgiving or just get some food period.

He was out there praying and about an hour later daddy was still praying. Someone knocked on the kitchen door; here stood a little feller with a big box on his shoulder full of groceries. He said, "I'm looking for where the Pecks live." And I said, "Well, this is it." Momma said, "This is it. We're right here." He said, "Well, I was walking by down that path and walked by this church that said, 'I think there's a house up on that hill there that's gotta large family. Would you take these groceries to them?'" The boy said, "Yes, I'll take them up there." He said, "This is a long walk." He gave them to us and we set them on the table and O Lord, we were so excited, we thought it was Christmas.

Daddy was still praying; he was still going at it. Mom was going through the groceries and we looked, and here comes that boy back again. He had another big box of groceries. He came to the door and he said, "You know, when I got to the bottom of that hill, another church had pitched in and they've got more groceries and they want me to bring them up here to you." He said that he heard my daddy praying back there the first time he brought that box. He said, "What is that? Is something wrong? Is he okay?" I said, "Yes, that's my daddy. He's praying. He does that all the time." When he brought that box up here the second time, he said, "Will you tell that man to quit praying. He's killing me, walking up and down this road."

That's my God for you. That's my God. God will make a way when there's no way to be made.

Nancy's Nuggets Of Wisdom

It Could Be Worse

Sister Nancy Willis

Beloved, think it not strange concerning the fiery trial which is to try you, as though some strange thing happened unto you: 1 Peter 4:12

As I write this my mind goes back to when I first got married. I remember one night I was ironing my skirt to go to church and I burned a hole in it. About this time my husband came home and he wanted to know what was wrong with me. I told him what I had done and he said don't worry about it ,because it could always be worse. I went on to church and a little while later my husband came in church and said our home had burnt. We had lost everything. As you may well know it was much worse. Whatever storm you may be going through. remember it could always be worse. I read a story about a man who was carrying a cross and he told the Lord it was too heavy to carry. The Lord took him into a room and there were many crosses. The Lord told him to pick out the one he wanted to carry. After looking around a few minutes he said I will take this small one. He then realized it was the same one he had been carrying. Remember we don't know what the next five minutes may holds. We could be quietly eating our supper and the phone rings or a knock on the door telling us our spouse, kids or maybe another loved one has been hurt or killed in an accident. And this would change our lives forever. So remember whatever storm you are in, it could always be worse. (September 2005)

A Word for TODAY!

By Sister Michelle Deuling

Verse for Today: Joshua 1:6-7 Be strong and of a good courage: for unto this people shalt thou divide for an inheritance the land, which I swore unto their fathers to give them. Only be thou strong and very courageous, that thou mayest observe to do according to all the law, which Moses my servant commanded thee: turn not from it to the right hand or to the left, that thou mayest prosper whithersoever thou goest.

Additional passages for Today: 1 Chronicles 22:13; 1 Corinthians 16:13

Thought for Today: God called Joshua and the rest of His people to do some hard tasks. Righteous living is a must if we want to succeed. God created each person with a purpose and while He calls us to do some hard tasks, He also plans for us to succeed if we will but live righteously before Him.

Story for Today: The motor of Keith's 1972 Dodge Charger roared to life as the young man turned the key. The car had been a project that he and a couple of his buddies had been working on over the past year and to hear the beautiful purr of the powerful engine brought smiles and high-fives to all the guys standing in the two-stall garage. Matt leaned his lanky frame in the passenger side window and congratulated Keith as he asked if it was time to take it out on the road. The grin that split Keith's face was answer enough and the 18-year-old opened the door and hopped in.

Johnny, Kenny, and Mitch stepped out of the way and the car began to move. Keith had prayed for this day. It was hard to believe it was happening. Restoring the car left to him by his deceased dad was a task that not only provided him with wheels, but it was also a time of healing. His dad's best friend, Mitch, had shared the day of the funeral that he and a couple of the guys would be coming over to help him get it up and running and the next day they came with a toolbox in one hand and a Bible in the other. Almost every day, one of these three guys had shown up to work on the car and ask or answer questions from what they called their guidebook. Keith didn't know what he would have done without these self-appointed mentors. He was so grateful they hadn't given up on him. He knew some days were very difficult as he railed against God, the one he believed had stolen his dad from him. When he asked Mitch why he continued to come to help when he had been especially difficult, the answer came very decidedly. God sent them. They made a promise and they would keep it. The promise wasn't to restore the car. It was to watch over their best friend's boy and to make sure he learned to love God and live a righteous life. Some days he admitted it was hard. He missed Keith's dad and sometimes he had other things that needed doing. On those days, he remembered a Bible verse that he and Tim, Keith's dad, had memorized as boys. He recalled that he needed to be strong and courageous. He remembered asking their teacher if they needed to obey the law. He never forgot the answer. Always obey God's law. Love Him with all your heart, soul, and mind, and love your neighbor as yourself. Then he explained that each of God's laws fell into those two commandments that Jesus had restated when he talked to the church leaders. Mitch explained that he had tried to live by that code and he found that when he did, he always did well.

Questions for Today: What hard task is God calling you to today? Will you step out in faith and walk righteously before God choosing to obey all the way every day?

Prayer for Today: Heavenly Father, thank You for calling us to be strong and courageous. Thank You for calling us to live trusting You rather than living in fear. Please help us to fulfill the purpose that You have designed us to do. Help us to hear Your voice when troubles come our way and to follow whatever You command us to do. Help us to always live for You. In Jesus' name, we pray. Amen.

God's Simple Plan of Salvation

My Friend: we are about to ask you the most important question of your life. Your joy or your sorrow for all eternity depends upon your answer. The question is: Are you saved? Do you know Jesus Christ as your personal LORD and Saviour? It is not a question of how good you are, nor if you are a church member, but have you put your faith in Jesus? Are you sure you will go to Heaven when you die? The Bible makes the plan of salvation plain and simple. Romans 10:13 says For whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved. Call on Jesus today. Put your faith and trust in him and ask him to forgive you of your sins and to be your LORD and savior and you will be born again...SAVED!! Do this today, tomorrow may be too late! Please write or call us if you have made the decision to accept Jesus.
