Jesus
*the way
the truth
the life*

He that believeth on him is not condemned: but he that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God. John 3:18

Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life:
no man cometh unto the Father, but by me. John 14:6

The Truth Shall Make You Free

And you shall know the Truth, and the Truth shall make you free. John 8:32

If we will seek the Truth, then we will find freedom! Freedom from sin only comes through the Truth, Jesus Christ and Him Crucified. We must stop seeking for good worship to deliver us, a good preacher to deliver us, or good works to deliver us. The Truth and that alone can set us free! There is freedom in Christ Jesus! Seek Jesus! Seek to know the Truth of His Word!

"The Truth remains, and it will never change. The Blood still sets men free!"

Cousin Leroy

A bedtime story by Leroy...

Long, long ago an old Indian chief was about to die, so he called for Fullabull and Falling Rocks, the two bravest warriors in his tribe. The chief instructed each to go out and seek buffalo skins. About a month later, Fullabull came back with two hundred pelts, but Falling Rocks never returned. Even today, as you drive throughout the west, you still see signs that say, "Watch for Falling Rocks"

Bubba's Dog

During a county-wide drive to round up all unlicensed dogs, a patrolman signaled Bubba to pull his truck over to the side of the road. When Bubba asked why he had been stopped, the officer pointed to the big dog sitting on the seat beside him and asked, "Does your dog have a license?" "No," Bubba said, "he doesn't need one." "Yes he does," answered the officer. "But," said Bubba, "I always do all the driving."

Budget Cuts

Due to budget constraints, the Board of the Daily Planet advised Perry White that he had to let one of his star reporters go. He was really overwhelmed about the magnitude of the decision.

"Who should go, Clark Kent or Lois Lane?" He actually did some praying, which he hadn't done for a long time. He asked, "Please, show me a sign."

That afternoon he was doing some shopping at Wal*Mart, and when he went to his car he suddenly saw the answer.

The next day he called Clark and Lois into the office and said, "I'm sorry, Lois, but you have to go."

After Lois collected her things and left, Clark took Perry aside and asked, "Chief, how did you know which one of us should go?"

Perry said, "Well, that turned out to be easier than I thought. While I was parking at Walmart, I looked up and there was the sign: FIRE LANE."

A Picture Of God

A nursery school teacher was observing her classroom of children while they were drawing. She would occasionally walk around to see each child's work. As she got to little Sarah who was working diligently, she asked what the drawing was. Sarah replied, 'I'm drawing God.' The teacher paused and said, 'But no one knows what God looks like.' Sarah replied. "They will in a minute."

Read Of All Men

Pastor Billy R Douglas

Ye are our epistle written in our hearts, known and read of all men: 2 Corinthians 3:2

As Christians, the world watches the way that we live. Our actions, the things that we say, our faithfulness to the Lord, the way that we treat others. The change that Jesus has made in our life is known and read of all men. I want to share with you a story that I recently came across, that serves as a wonderful reminder of the power of showing the love of God, by sharing a smile, a kind word, a gentle touch or a good deed...

On a cold day in December, some years ago, a little boy, about 10-years-old, was standing before a shoe store on the roadway, barefooted, peering through the window, and shivering with cold. A lady approached the young boy and said, "My, but you're in such deep thought staring in that window."

"I was asking God to give me a pair of shoes," was the boy's reply. The lady took him by the hand, went into the store, and asked the clerk to get half a dozen pairs of socks for the boy. She then asked if he could give her a basin of water and a towel. He quickly brought them to her.

She took the little fellow to the back part of the store and, removing her gloves, knelt down, washed his little feet, and dried them with the towel. By this time, the clerk had returned with the socks. Placing a pair on the boy's feet, she purchased him a pair of shoes. She tied up the remaining pairs of socks and gave them to him. She patted him on the head and said, "No doubt, you will be more comfortable now."

As she turned to go, the astonished kid caught her by the hand, and looking up into her face, with tears in his eyes, asked her, "Are you God's wife?"

Lord, help us to always keep in mind that we are the only Bible that some people read. Until next time may the LORD bless and keep you is our prayer. Pastor Billy R Douglas

"There is not so powerful a sermon in the world, as a consistent Christian life. The eye of the world takes in more than the ear. Give unbelievers the chance of believing through you. Be mild when they are angry, humble when they are haughty; to their blasphemy oppose by prayer without ceasing; to their inconsistency, a steadfast adherence to your faith." (JFB)

We are the only Bible The careless world will read;
We are the sinner's Gospel, We are the scoffer's creed;
We are the Lord's last message, Given in deed and word;
What if the type is crooked? What if the print is blurred?

What if our hands are busy With work other than His?
What if our feet are walking Where sin's allurements is?
What if our tongues are speaking Of things His lips would spurn?
How can we hope to help Him And hasten His return?

A Word to the Wise: The Wise Fool

Pastor Steven Huston

The fear of the LORD is the beginning of knowledge: but fools despise wisdom and instruction. Proverbs 1:7

Knowing what to do and doing it are two very different things. To do or not to do, that's the question. James warns that to ask for wisdom and then to not walk in the instruction given makes a man unstable in all his ways. Solomon's appetite for wisdom was whetted by his father's instruction:

Proverbs 4:3-13 "For I was my father's son, tender and only beloved in the sight of my mother. He taught me also, and said unto me, Let thine heart retain my words: keep my commandments, and live. Get wisdom, get understanding: forget it not; neither decline from the words of my mouth. Forsake her not, and she shall preserve thee: love her, and she shall keep thee. Wisdom is the principal thing; therefore get wisdom: and with all thy getting get understanding. Exalt her, and she shall promote thee: she shall bring thee to honour, when thou dost embrace her. She shall give to thine head an ornament of grace: a crown of glory shall she deliver to thee. Hear, O my son, and receive my sayings; and the years of thy life shall be many. I have taught thee in the way of wisdom; I have led thee in right paths. When thou goest, thy steps shall not be straitened; and when thou runnest, thou shalt not stumble. Take fast hold of instruction; let her not go: keep her; for she is thy life."

Solomon was the recipient of wisdom from King David, a man after God's own heart, and, also, fitted for wisdom from heaven above, as promised by God; yet, Solomon became a fool. The obtaining of wisdom, applying wisdom to the lives of others, and its personal application for benefit and to God's glory are very different things. Like David, parents often try to bestow wisdom to their children. Yet, depending on the disposition of the child (or adult), some accept it while others reject it. What will you do with the wisdom that the Holy Spirit desires to share with you through God's Word, in general, and the Proverbs, specifically? Much of that depends on how we choose to relate to wisdom. Let's briefly look at just a few of the relational words regarding wisdom in Proverbs 1:2-5.

1. "To KNOW wisdom and instruction" calls for a personal encounter, a deep commitment to and intimate interaction with wisdom. Instead of possessing wisdom, wisdom possesses you and, as one writer put it, you're committed to the wisest action regardless the cost. Do you know wisdom like this? 2. Are you willing to RECEIVE instruction? This takes a humility of heart and mind, crucifying the pride of self-desire or self-instruction. It requires submission to discipline and correction; such discipline may be painful and yet not be punishment. 3. "A wise man will HEAR, and increase learning." Such hearing doesn't pass through the ears only; it moves the heart, hands, and feet to discerning obedience.

How can I call the writer of Proverbs a wise fool? He started on the path of wisdom, walking with her, cherishing her, and obediently submitting to her call. BUT, 1 Kings 11 tells us that his wives turned his heart after other gods and that Solomon did evil in the sight of the Lord. In other words, he stopped the intimate communion with wisdom, he rejected godly instruction – chasing after physical fulfillment, and, while he may have had a head full of wise words, his heart was not hearing the voice of her call (obedient discernment). This is largely the account of vanity shared by Solomon in his book of Ecclesiastes. It's my hope that this "wise fool," when he was old, repented of his foolishness and returned to wisdom, thereby fulfilling his own saying that if a child is trained up in the way he should go, "when he is old he will not depart from it." This is likely, for he closes out the book describing his folly thusly: "Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: Fear God, and keep his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man. For God shall bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil."

Are you wise, foolish, or a wise-fool?

Jesus IS the Answer – BUT - Are we asking the right question?

Pastor Steven Huston

Indeed, we live in perilous times! One quick read through the beginning of Second Timothy chapter three and one would think the Apostle Paul was looking through a time portal, straight into the heart of the United States of America 2023. Mid-west values have shrunk, the Bible belt has loosened, and our spiritual pants, nationally, have slipped down, exposing our nakedness and shame. Yet, like Daniel's spiritual description of Israel in chapter nine of his book, we have such "confusion of face" many, perhaps most, don't feel the shame that is rightfully ours. (Jeremiah 6:15 gives a fuller description.)

To catalog our national atrocities would take more room and more energy than I have. Suffice it to say that we were a nation which was founded upon godly principles; we were a "light shining on a hill." However, because of our sin, what once was is no longer and that light is now so very dim, if not snuffed out altogether. Make no mistake, there are individuals and some churches whose light continues to shine, but, nationally, we are divided, in chaos, "truth is fallen in the street" and righteousness has been run down next to it.

We must look to the future Biblically, recognizing what will be the lot (notice: I did not say the end) of those who will walk in the way of God, instructing others in godliness, making Christ alone their hope and refuge. Isaiah warns: "he that departeth from evil maketh himself a prey." (59:15) And Paul, after sharing his experiences, states plainly, "Yea, and all that will live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution." (2 Tim. 3:12)

That's plain enough; what, then, can we do? The only thing we can do – give those around us the answer they need regardless the cost. Light is the answer to darkness; salt is the answer to corruption; bread is the answer to hunger. Jesus is the answer for our dark, corrupted, hungry, nation and world – not just for today; Christ and His way have ALWAYS been the answer! But, what's the real question?

The question isn't, "How can I have a better life" or "How can I improve my family, nation, or world situation?" The question is, "How has my Creator commanded me to live?" and "How can I best glorify, honor, and praise Christ?" In other words, is Christ (Christianity) a means to an end or is He the end? J. Gresham Machen hauntingly lays out this poignant truth which begs the question, moving us to penetrating self-examination: "Are we using Christ or are we allowing Christ to use us?" for what is Christianity but Jesus living in us and through us.

"Christianity will indeed accomplish many useful things in this world, but if it is accepted in order to accomplish those useful things it is not Christianity. Christianity will combat Bolshevism; but if it is accepted in order to combat Communism, it is not Christianity: Christianity will produce a unified nation, in a slow but satisfactory way; but if it is accepted in order to produce a unified nation, it is not Christianity: Christianity will produce a healthy community; but if it is accepted in order to produce a healthy community, it is not Christianity: Christianity will promote international peace; but if it is accepted in order to promote international peace, it is not Christianity. Our Lord said: 'But seek first the kingdom of God and his righteousness, and all these things will be added to you' (Matt. 6:33). But if you seek first the Kingdom of God and His righteousness in order that all those things may be added unto you, you will miss both those other things and the Kingdom of God as well." (Christianity and Liberalism; p. 162)

What are our motives in presenting truth to the culture? Are we loving God and others or are we loving ourselves, hoping for self-preservation and longing to simply conserve what once was? Are we promoting Jesus or is it self-promotion by using Him?

Don't Be Fooled

George Whitten

For such are false apostles, deceitful workers, transforming themselves into the apostles of Christ. And no marvel; for Satan himself is transformed into an angel of light. Therefore it is no great thing if his ministers also be transformed as the ministers of righteousness; whose end shall be according to their works. 2 Corinthians 11:13-15

In 1941 the United States and Japan were in negotiations to resolve their difference as the rest of the world was at war. The special delegation of Japanese ambassadors, ostensibly sent on this "peace" mission, arrived shortly before the massive surprise attack on Pearl Harbor, in which 2,403 Americans were killed, 1,143 were wounded, eighteen ships were sunk or grounded, and 300 planes were destroyed or damaged. President Franklin Roosevelt called it a "date which will live in infamy."

The ambassadors from Japan must have been good actors, carefully trained to set the Americans at ease and completely assuage any suspicion of their nations' true intentions, thus disarming their enemy with subtle subterfuge.

So, we wonder, how does a serpent, or a dragon, appear as an angel of light? Or how does a self-centered charlatan or a brilliant narcissist transform himself into a "Christian" preacher or a modern "prophet"? Or, how does a power-hungry government official, or a billionaire philanthropist, or a "qualified" medical professional present himself as a servant of mankind, with a comprehensive program for benefitting humanity? ...when, in fact, they are bent on destruction...

1 Thessalonians 5:3 warns us of last day's deception: "For when they shall say, Peace and safety; then sudden destruction cometh upon them, as travail upon a woman with child; and they shall not escape. In the end, the deceivers will deceive themselves, but meanwhile..."

The devil may have horns, but he will somehow adorn them to look like halos. Beware. Jesus said, "Behold, I send you forth as sheep in the midst of wolves: be ye therefore wise as serpents, and harmless as doves." Remember, the enemy may pretend to be your friend, but his deception may have devastating consequences.

And as he sat upon the mount of Olives, the disciples came unto him privately, saying, Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign of thy coming, and of the end of the world? And Jesus answered and said unto them, Take heed that no man deceive you. Matthew 24:3-4

The Roomate

Two men, both seriously ill, occupied the same hospital room. One man was allowed to sit up in his bed for an hour each afternoon to help drain the fluid from his lungs. His bed was next to the room's only window. The other man had to spend all his time flat on his back.

The men talked for hours on end. They spoke of their wives and families, their homes, their jobs, their involvement in the military service, where they had been on vacation. And every afternoon when the man in the bed by the window could sit up, he would pass the time by describing to his roommate all the things he could see outside the window.

The man in the other bed began to live for those one-hour periods where his world would be broadened and enlivened by all the activity and color of the world outside. The window overlooked a park with a lovely lake. Ducks and swans played on the water while children sailed their model boats. Young lovers walked arm in arm amidst flowers of every color of the rainbow. Grand old trees graced the landscape, and a fine view of the city skyline could be seen in the distance. As the man by the window described all this in exquisite detail, the man on the other side of the room would close his eyes and imagine the picturesque scene.

One warm afternoon the man by the window described a parade passing by. Although the other man couldn't hear the band, he could see it in his mind's eye as the gentleman by the window portrayed it with descriptive words.

Days and weeks passed. One morning, the day nurse arrived to bring water for their baths only to find the lifeless body of the man by the window, who had died peacefully in his sleep. She was saddened and called the hospital attendants to take the body away. As soon as it seemed appropriate, the other man asked if he could be moved next to the window. The nurse was happy to make the switch, and after making sure he was comfortable, she left him alone.

Slowly, painfully, he propped himself up on one elbow to take his first look at the world outside. Finally, he would have the joy of seeing it for himself. He strained to slowly turn to look out the window beside the bed.

It faced a brick wall.

The man asked the nurse what could have compelled his deceased roommate who had described such wonderful things outside this window. The nurse responded that the man was blind and could not even see the wall. She said, "Perhaps he just wanted to encourage you."

Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ. Galatians 6:2

Two are better than one; because they have a good reward for their labour. For if they fall, the one will lift up his fellow: but woe to him that is alone when he falleth; for he hath not another to help him up.

Ecclesiastes 4:9-10

O Death Where Is Thy Sting?

Pastor Mike Vaughn

O death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory? 1 Corinthians 15: 55

Harry Houdini was an escape artist. They tried all kinds of ways to keep Harry Houdini locked up. They would bury him in a coffin, but he would get out. They would sew him up in canvas bags and throw him in the river, but he would get out. His biographer said, "He would escape from anything except your memory." Yet there came a day when Harry Houdini died, and he did not escape the iron-clad clutches of death. As a matter of fact, he told his wife, when talking about his death "If there is any way out I will find it. If there is any way out, I will find you and I will make contact with you on the anniversary of my death." After Harry' death, for 10 years, his wife kept a light burning at the bottom of his portrait. And after 10 years, she turned out the light. Death had laid it's hands on Harry Houdini and he could not escape.

Death also laid it's hands on another, "Jesus Christ". And death laid Him in a tomb. But death could not hold Him. In three days He arose, Triumphed over death, hell and the grave. Because He Lives we can live also, eternally.

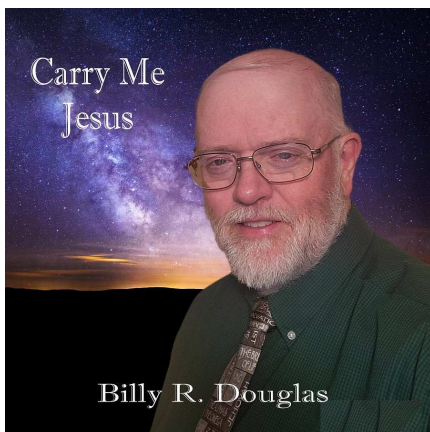

Up from the grave He arose with a mighty triumph oe'r His foes. He arose a Victor from the dark domain and He lives forever with His saints to reign. He arose, He arose, Hallelujah, Christ Arose!!

You are loved with an everlasting Love., Pastor Mike

A Word for TODAY!

By Sister Michelle Deuling

Verse for Today: Jonah 1:2 Arise, go to Nineveh, that great city, and cry against it; for their wickedness is come up before me.

Additional Passages for Today: Exodus 14:10-16; Numbers 22:1-35; Jeremiah 1:7; Ezekiel 3:1; Acts 5:20

Thought for Today: God sent many people to warn and share truth throughout the ages. When they obeyed God and the people listened, good things happened.

Story for Today: "Please go tell your brother to come inside." requested Mom of 10-year-old Ethnie. Liam was outside playing basketball and there were chores that needed to be done. Ethnie went outside and headed in the direction that would take her to the court where many of the neighborhood boys would be found most afternoons and evenings during the school year. As she went, Ethnie remembered that Liam had gotten her in trouble before school for not putting the cap on the toothpaste. He had also talked to her about her attitude when she was feeling rushed and she had spoken sharply to her mom. She was still upset about that. A quick decision, as she came to the court, made her stop and turn around without saying a word. She headed home and went to work doing her chores as if she had completed the task. An hour and a half later Liam still hadn't shown up. Mother was very upset that not only were the chores not done but Liam hadn't obeyed her request to come home. The guest speaker for the special service at church would arrive any minute and she was not ready. As Dad walked in with Mr. Jones, Mom pasted on a smile and mentioned that Liam was still at the courts. Dad excused himself and was quickly on his way to collect his wayward son. Liam saw his dad approaching and waved goodbye to his friends. Apologizing as they walked, Liam didn't make any excuse for not getting his chores done and graciously accepted his punishment.

That night as Mr. Jones spoke to the congregation, Ethnie couldn't stop squirming in her seat. It was as if Mr. Jones was speaking right to her. He spoke about Jonah and how God had called him to go and preach to the land of Nineveh, warning them of the judgment to come. He shared how Jonah rebelled against God and tried to go in the opposite direction. The great fish was a gift of mercy, sent by God to protect the wayward Jonah. Ethnie realized that her heart was wicked. She had wanted Liam to be punished. She had not wanted him to receive mercy. Sure, Liam knew he had chores to do and it wasn't her responsibility to remind him. But, Mom had wanted to show grace and because she was disobedient, Mom and Dad had suffered also. Ethnie regretted her choices today. Mr. Jones told how dangerous it would have been for Jonah to speak to the people of Nineveh. Telling Liam to come home was not dangerous at all and yet she had been just as disobedient as Jonah. Repentance was the answer. She knew she needed to have her mind transformed. Recognizing that her choice to try to get vengeance was wrong, Ethnie went to the altar to seek forgiveness and rid her soul of the rebellion that had dwelt within her.

Questions for Today: What has God given for you to do this day? Who can you offer an escape from the wrath to come? If you don't share the truth, who will? Will you be obedient to God or will you follow your own will?

Prayer for Today: Heavenly Father, Thank You for the grace and Mercy that You show to us each and every day. Thank You for sending people to warn us when we wander away or do things that are outside Your will for us. Please help us to be obedient and speak the words You give us to say when You want us to say them. Help us to be faithful and not fearful or revengeful. Help us to show the mercy and grace we desire. In Jesus' Name, we pray. Amen.

God's Simple Plan of Salvation

My Friend: we are about to ask you the most important question of your life. Your joy or your sorrow for all eternity depends upon your answer. The question is: Are you saved? Do you know Jesus Christ as your personal LORD and Saviour? It is not a question of how good you are, nor if you are a church member, but have you put your faith in Jesus? Are you sure you will go to Heaven when you die? The Bible makes the plan of salvation plain and simple. Romans 10:13 says For whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved. Call on Jesus today. Put your faith and trust in him and ask him to forgive you of your sins and to be your LORD and savior and you will be born again...SAVED!! Do this today, tomorrow may be too late! Please write or call us if you have made the decision to accept Jesus.
